Spring Crows exhibition at the Spirit Room is a noncompetitive festive exhibition. It is intended to be a mad combining of energies and visual ingredients. The theme is the crow, the blackbird, and all their marvelous and malevolent associations. The crows and ravens keep us company in the wintertime and continue to remind us with their squawks and pacing that they keep a close eye on our behaviors and movements. Crows are known to play catch with twigs, to slide down snowy hills on their backs head-first, to soar and dive for entertainment, to carry shiny objects back to their nests for contemplation, and to collect hallucinogenic seeds in the fall, saving them to bring color to winter-white boredom. Let these mischievous creatures inspire you and lead us into brighter days.

The Reverend Henry Ward Beecher said in the mid 1880s, "If men had wings and bore black feathers, few of them would be clever enough to match the crow." This is a chance to put on your thinking cap and share your talents and good humor by entering the Spring Crows exhibition.
